

PAT Math standardised testing results

During March 2011, at the commencement of the school year, we used PAT Math test booklets at the recommendation of AISWA to appropriately test student levels. The PAT Math booklets test students across all the major math subjects including chance & data, number & algebra and space & measurement. The results showed student understanding and gaps in their learning.

In November we again tested these students to measure improvement and understanding. I am pleased to say that across both math classes (the FIG program and the Lower School Math Class) significant improvement was recorded as shown in the graphs below.
